Section 3 About the service provided

a) Range of needs we can support

Rowan House residential service will provide a home for one child or young person of any gender in the age range of 11-17 years of age. Rowan House intends to provide an intensive short to medium placement for a child/young person for as long as it can meet their needs. It is our intention to support the child/young person to be able to leave Rowan House to step down into either a multi occupancy residential home, a foster placement, successfully transition into their own accommodation or return to appropriately identified family members. The length of placement will depend on the child/young person's care plan. Rowan House will be providing a home for a child or young person who is particularly vulnerable and unable to remain living with family or in their local areas at the point of admission. This Home is also for a child or young person who may have trouble living with any other children or young people.

The home can be offered as a solo placement for young people who require 2:1 support.

We would need a full discussion relating to any young person subject to Deprivation of Liberty (under inherent jurisdiction).

As a Company we feel strongly that we can identify the children and young people whose needs we can meet successfully. We also believe that it is important to be clear about those needs that we may not be able to meet; to know our limitations so that we do not offer false expectations for young people and Local Authorities.

We would expect to be able to meet the following needs:

- Children and young people aged 11-17 years (and beyond if required)
- Any gender, including young people who identify as LGBTQ+
- Care experienced young people, or those who come direct from the community
- Substance or alcohol abuse
- Self-harming behaviour
- Pregnant young women
- Experience of sexual abuse including child sexual exploitation (subject to full risk assessment)
- Involvement in criminal behaviour/youth justice system (subject to full risk assessment)

At this time, we are not able to successfully meet the needs of young people who have serious (diagnosed) mental health difficulties, or those young people who have been involved in serious sexually harmful behaviour.

We will give consideration to offering a home to young people who have an assessed mild to moderate learning difficulty or disability, but we would not be able to meet the needs of young people with significant learning difficulties or disability.

Service Aim

The Directors of Complete Care Plus have all worked with Looked After Children and based on their experiences are committed to providing the best possible service to everyone we meet. We believe that residential care is a positive option for children and young people.

We believe that all children and young people should live in a home that is safe and where they feel accepted, listened to, and cared for.

We want the children and young people who come to live in our homes to feel warmly welcomed and happy.

We will make sure that our staff are always professional and that they make the very best relationships with children and young people, and their families.

 Our staff will develop mutual trust by working with everyone in a way that is open, honest, and transparent.
 We are an inclusive company, and we will ensure that our staff are representative of wider society.
 We celebrate diversity as we believe that the greater the mix of people in our team, the greater the mix of skills, experiences, perspectives, and ideas we can draw on.
 We will work in partnership with everyone to make sure that children and young people can develop resilience and a sense of well-being.

- We will ensure that all children and young people have a plan for leaving care which includes the support they will receive from the home and others.

Model of Care

- Our aim is to welcome children and young people into our homes and to make them feel at home for as long as they need us. They will be accepted, listened to, nurtured, and kept safe. They will have routine and boundaries.

- We will develop positive relationships with each child or young person, which are based on mutual trust, honesty, and transparency.
- We will ensure that every child or young person understands their past, their present and their future plan, which will be created in partnership with them.

- We will provide each child or young person with the opportunity to have positive experiences and to make good memories.
- Each child or young person will have a link worker.
- Where a child or young person needs specialist help, we will support them to recognise the need and to access the right services.
- We will adhere to all legislative and regulatory requirements.
- We will ensure that our processes and practices are sound and that the business remains viable.

Arrangements for admitting, assessing, planning, and reviewing people's care.

The admission of children to Rowan House will be made in line with the referral and admission policy.

Rowan House will only accept planned admissions.

No placement will be made without the appropriate Looked after Children paperwork being provided.

Rowan House expects that the admission of children and young people could be from a variety of sources, ranging from secure services through to their own home within the community, foster care, or other residential placement.

Rowan House preference is to take planned admissions and it is expected that referring or placing authorities will provide full and comprehensive documentation prior to the time of admission in order to safeguard young people.

- Initial risk assessment completed in discussion with Social Worker and the Manager of the home confirming any safeguarding risks to the young person. This to include a risk assessment of the building in relation to the suitability of physical interventions taking place in the home.
- Upon receiving the admission documentation an impact assessment will be carried out by the Rowan House Manager, in their absence the Responsible Individual or a Deputy Manager. The decision to offer a placement will be based upon a thorough consideration of the young person's needs, a judgement on the ability of Rowan House to meet those needs based on its Statement of Purpose and any current circumstances to be taken into consideration. For all planned admissions, the Manager will be responsible for agreeing admission of placements.
- The personal plan should be completed prior to admission to the home, this will be reviewed and updated within 7 days of commencement of placement and a provider assessment created.
- Agreement to the arrangement by Social Worker, Parent's (where possible) and child/young person (subject to age, understanding and circumstances).

Timescales for admission are determined by each child or young person's needs and requirements. It is expected that the information about Rowan House has been shared with the young person and their parents (where appropriate). Best practice would enable a young person and (where appropriate) their family to visit Rowan House prior to admission. All efforts will be made to ensure a smooth transition from their current placement to Rowan House at the young person's pace.

For each young person being offered a home at Rowan House in line with their existing personal plan, a provider assessment of their settling in will be undertaken, wherever possible co-produced with the child/young person; the personal plan will then be reviewed and aligned to meet the individual's needs. Young people and significant persons to them, are expected to be fully engaged with this process.

The personal plan will contain the minutiae of the day-to-day routine and activities for the young person and aims to involve them at every opportunity to ensure successful participation and realistic achievements. The Link Worker will be responsible for regularly ensuring that the plan remains fit for purpose, or highlighting and signposting where changes may be required, this will be overseen and monitored by the Rowan House Manager and through statutory reviews.

All staff at Rowan House are expected to be familiar with each individual care and personal plan and work towards achieving the personal wellbeing outcomes identified. It is expected that the link worker or Rowan House Manager will be in touch with the childcare social worker on not less than monthly basis to update them formally of the young person's progress.

Children or young people's plans will be reviewed regularly in accordance with statutory guidelines and requirements. The first statutory review will be within four weeks of a child or young person moving into Rowan House.

To facilitate these meetings, and to make the child or young person feel comfortable and able to participate, the review meeting will usually be held at Rowan House, but we support the child's right to choose the venue. The child or young person will be informed about the meeting ahead of time and assisted in their preparation by having access to reading the report produced by the home prior to the meeting. A child/young person will also be supported to write their own views wishes and feelings to be presented to the review, or to chair their review.

If a young person chooses, a staff member can advocate on their behalf.

Standard of Care and Support

Each young person will have a personal plan, based on general and specific needs and this will be regularly reviewed and updated by the Link Worker. Rowan House will provide quality care individualised to the needs of the child/young person, which considers their experiences, identifies the areas in which they need support, and provides achievable targets. Rowan House will be able to demonstrate that we are making a difference by measuring outcomes of these interventions and setting milestones. Children and young people will be involved in setting their targets and agreeing expectations and individual rewards.

Rowan House staff are expected to work in a positive and proactive manner with the young person living in the home. Staff are expected to treat the young person as an individual, respecting and promoting their gender, religious and cultural needs, or identities. Staff will receive training and advice on the best ways of managing behaviours and addressing any issues within the home.

Staff will receive an induction and ongoing training and must also adhere to the Professional Code of Practice as part of their registration with Social Care Wales. All staff have access to the online Children's Training Hub and are provided with opportunity to access the Hub during working hours.

All staff are expected to read and adhere to all available policies, procedures, and practice guidelines.

Safeguarding

Rowan House residential service has a duty of care to ensure that young people are safeguarded and that their welfare is given paramount consideration in all our homes. In all aspects of our work, we aim to provide positive experiences for young people in a safe and caring environment, free from harm or abuse. Rowan House residential service has a moral and legal obligation to provide a safe living environment within which young people can thrive; where they are cared for by adults they trust and ensure they can live without fear of harm or abuse.

In all aspects of safeguarding, staff must ensure a child-centred approach.

All staff must be able to demonstrate and awareness of safeguarding procedures and guidance

All staff have a responsibility to report any suspicions they have, that a young person has or may be mistreated or harmed, and to take all allegations seriously and report them immediately to the Manager and any other relevant professionals.

If any person has knowledge, concerns, or suspicions that a child is suffering, has suffered or is likely to be at risk of harm, it is their responsibility to ensure that the concerns are referred to social services or the police who have statutory duties and powers to make enquiries and intervene when necessary.

The Responsible Individual is the designated Safeguarding Lead for the Company and is available to give advice and guidance and to attend meetings where required.

THIS IS NOT A MATTER OF PERSONAL CHOICE. SAFEGUARDING AND PROTECTING IS EVERYBODY'S RESPONSIBILITY.

Arrangements for Behaviour Support

Behaviour support will be viewed in the context of the child or young person's emotional state and past experiences. Staff will always be trained to recognise and respond positively to an individual's emotional state.

All staff should be aware of the relevant policies and procedures in relation to behaviour support.

We aim to educate children and young people so that they can make appropriate and positive choices which give them the ability to make more informed decisions, not just in their daily lives but in planning for their future. Children/young people, through the building of trusting relationships with either their link worker or other members of the care team will learn about making positive choices. The staff team will offer the opportunity to young people to think about and understand the impact and consequences of their choices and actions helping set their own limits and boundaries.

Staff are expected to be consistent with their parenting approach. Corporal punishment will never be used in Rowan House.

In some instances, a child or young person may require access to assessed or identified therapy. Rowan House staff will in liaison with the placing authorities aim to ensure this need is met locally and will support the child or young person through this process.

Arrangements for the promotion of healthy living for a child/young person placed in Rowan House and Health and Safety measures.

Throughout a child or young person's time in placement they will have access to their Looked After Children's health visitor or nurse. This service oversees and offers resources for immunisation and screening, offers advice on nutrition and diet, exercise and rest, personal hygiene, sexual health, and harmful effects of alcohol, smoking and substance misuse. Any additional areas of concern highlighted or where more focus is identified will be addressed by Rowan House staff.

Children/young people will be registered with a local GP practice within 2 weeks. Emergency access to a GP is available and there is a hospital less than 15 minutes away with an Accident and Emergency department.

All children/young people will be provided the opportunity to have an annual health check and to visit the dentist as identified in their care plan.

All children and young people will be offered the opportunity to contribute to meal planning and a healthy diet plan will be promoted. Children and young people will also be encouraged to take part in the preparing of meals in line with promoting their life skills and independence. Any specialist dietary requirements or preferences will be catered for, and all staff made aware of any allergies or intolerances young people may have.

Any child/young person who smokes will be discouraged but young people that do smoke will be asked to do so away from the immediate property, in a designated area which has a wall mounted cigarette bin. No staff will smoke at Rowan House, visitors will only be allowed to smoke in the designated area.

Any young person in need of urgent medical attention will be taken to A and E or to the local GP for support and guidance.

There is a local CAMHS service available via referral which young people would be supported to attend.

A child or young person needing ongoing medication or treatment will have a health plan clearly outlining the condition/illness, its treatment, and any signs to be aware of/process to be followed.

All staff receive training in the safe administration of medication.

Medication will be kept in a locked cabinet within the main office and the Rowan House Manager, Deputy Manager, Senior and Shift Leader will have access. For non-controlled medication i.e., inhalers etc then, within the personal plan details will be kept of how where they should be used and stored.

Rowan House has a medication logbook in place for each child/young person thereby minimising the risk of incorrect administration.

Complete Care Plus Ltd provides health and safety training to staff with the aim of protecting children and young people, staff, and visitors from harm. The property has all relevant safety certificates for appliances, food hygiene certification, gas, and electrics. An (accredited) independent fire safety risk assessment is available.

The house has access to a maintenance service 24/7 for emergencies and routine works.

Rowan House has installed a video interface electronic doorbell on the front door of the property to enable staff to monitor anyone leaving or entering the house ensuring safety and knowledge of where residents are.

All visitors to Rowan House will be expected to sign in and out of the home using the visitor's book. All professionals will only be gained entry on production of valid photographic ID (which staff may verify with the visitor's organisation)

Should a young person have an electronic tag ordered by the courts then Complete Care Plus will fully comply with the use of the surveillance.

Arrangements for Education

Complete Care Plus recognises that all children and young people living at Rowan House should have access to mainstream school education and all Looked After Children should have a Personal Education Plan.

Rowan House will have a designated worker who:

- actively promotes the educational achievements of all young people
- liaises with teachers and the vulnerable groups coordinator
- ensures that all young people have a clear and up-to-date personal education plan.
- attends any education review, contributes to the personal education plan, and attends any school meetings as required.

There are a range of schools in the locality and enquiries can be made as to which school a child/young person could attend. Support is available from the Local Authority vulnerable groups team. Rowan House will work closely with the school/college and support education by checking homework diaries and attending events such as sports days, plays etc.

If the child/young person will not be having their needs met through a mainstream education provision a quiet room can be made available at Rowan House for private tuition if it were commissioned by the home Local Authority. It is expected that the tutor would liaise with Rowan House staff in respect of homework or specific tasks that need additional support.

The provision of internet is available, and the child/young person will be supported in attaining their education goals. The child/young person will have a desk in their bedroom and appropriate space and light for studying.

There is a local library that can be accessed if required.

Arrangements for the promotion of activities and interests

Children and young people will be encouraged and supported to pursue local activities and interests to promote a healthy lifestyle and fulfil their potential.

These may include clubs such as scouts or cadets, sports clubs such as trampolining or swimming or the opportunity to go to the local skate park or other parks in the area. If the young person has a hobby and needs specialist equipment they will be encouraged where practically possible to continue this.

There will also be a range of supervised activities available such as the cinema, ten pin bowling, going to larger parks and museums in Wales. Parental/guardian permission will need to be given for some activities, but this will be highlighted in advance. Rowan House has its own transport for getting to activities and places of interest. Where necessary individual risk assessments will also be carried out.

Within Rowan House there are books, TV's, board games and computer equipment that children/young people can use and enjoy.

Staff have a variety of interests and hobbies so there should always be a member of staff who will be able to support the children and young people in their pursuits.

Sanctions and the use of restraint

All staff will need to refer to relevant policies and procedures and the Welsh Government 'Reducing Restrictive Practices' Framework.

The young people's guide to living in Rowan House will inform them of the expectations upon them and what they can expect from staff whilst living there. Staff will always be respectful and explain the reasoning behind decisions. Mutual respect and healthy relationships will form the basis of maintaining order and safe living within Rowan House and behaviour management and control enabling children and young people to develop self-control and self-discipline. Our focus will be on acknowledging and rewarding positive behaviour and choices.

Additional measures should be reasonable and time specific with both the child/young person and staff aware of those boundaries. These may include reparation, increased supervision, withdrawal of a specific activity/event. Sanctions should always be negotiated with the child/young person and could be renegotiated to recognise and encourage positive behaviour.

No form of physical chastisement will be tolerated and is not approved for use within Rowan House. A child/young person may only ever expect to be physically restrained in any way, in order to prevent the immediate significant harm of themselves or another person in their environment. All such incidents will be appropriately recorded, and notifications made. All staff are trained by an accredited trainer in approved forms of restraint and will attend refresher courses as required.

Staff who have not received training must not participate in any physical intervention. All physical interventions must be recorded on the Physical Intervention Record

Food and drink being withheld, the cancellation of contact visits or confinement to a bedroom will not be used as forms of additional measure within Rowan House. House meetings will be held where the young people are encouraged to participate and suggest ways of improving the systems within the home, which may include rules and boundaries.

Police Intervention

Police involvement is always a carefully considered response to a young person's behaviour and should not be the first or preferred course of action as we would want to avoid the criminalisation of young people. However, there may be times when this is needed, especially when directed by the Courts as part of a TAG or curfew.

In appropriate circumstances, prior to the police being called every incident will be discussed and agreed with the Rowan House Manager, a Deputy Manager, and the Responsible Individual. Any decision to press charges against a young person for an offence or assault should be discussed with a Senior Manager, their parent or Social Worker and whenever possible the child/young person themselves. If possible, any action should be planned and take note of the child/young person's individual placement, current circumstances, and any therapeutic advice.

The Police will not be called as a means of controlling any child/young person unless an incident is serious enough to warrant such intervention (i.e., An alleged crime has been committed) and all other avenues of support and behavioural approaches have been exhausted.

Complete Care Plus Ltd is committed to supporting employees who are subjected to assault in the course of their employment. The extent and provision of such support will depend on the individual circumstances of each incident, a post incident de brief and in collaboration whenever possible with the individual to mutually agree a course of action.

Missing Persons/Unauthorised Absence

Staff at Rowan House understand that children and young people may absent themselves for a variety of reasons and wherever possible this will be discouraged. Any child/young person wanting to absent themselves from the home will be actively discouraged; staff will take all reasonable steps to prevent absence.

Each child/young person's personal plan will include a section on their absconding risks or patterns, any curfews, and actions to be taken if they absent themselves. The young person should always be aware of those details.

Children/young people may be reported missing to the police if any absence is unexplained or a time curfew has significantly elapsed, or their whereabouts is unknown. Police are required to respond immediately to any safeguarding referral made by Rowan House. It is important to acknowledge there is a difference between being missing or being absent without authority and staff will follow the written guidance, care plan and risk assessment. Staff will undertake dynamic risk assessments throughout any period that a child/young person is absent or missing to inform the appropriate and safe course of action.

Any periods of absence will be recorded and debriefs carried out and recorded by staff with the child/young person at an appropriate time.

Where determined by the care plan and risk assessment, periods of absence will be notified to the Responsible Individual, Childcare Social Worker, and parents. The Police and the host Local Authority will also be informed. Notifications will be made to the CIW where appropriate.

Rowan House staff have an existing relationship with the South Wales Police missing persons team and staff can call for advice or discussion if necessary.

Religion

Staff will be respectful and sensitive to the beliefs and spiritual needs of the child/young person and where known, provision will be made to support the individual to participate in attending places of worship locally or in the closest identified provision.

Arrangements for Contact

The young person will be supported and encouraged to maintain contact with their family, friends, and significant others in accordance with their personal plan and subject to any safeguards that may be in place for their safety and well-being.

Children and young people will be supported to keep in touch through a variety of methods such as skype, face time, phone, letters, post cards and greeting cards in addition to visits to and from friends and family. These contacts will be afforded the appropriate level of privacy but may require monitoring and will be dependent upon any safeguarding concerns or restrictions.

Visits from friends and family are important and the home will promote a warm welcoming experience for everyone, whilst it remains in the best interest of the child/young person. All visiting arrangements will depend on individual circumstances.

Arrangements for consultation with the child/young person

The child/young person will be encouraged to speak to their link worker or any staff within Rowan House.

Monthly house meetings for the child/young person will be established to encourage open and positive communications.

Feedback will also be obtained through Looked After Children review forms and professionals working with the children will be expected to advocate on their behalf if necessary.

Notifications will be made to the service regulator in line with RISCA Schedule 3 (Part 33/36)

During visits by the Responsible Individual, the child/young person will be spoken to and asked for their views. These views will inform the Quality of Care Review.

Data from the completion of end of placement, compliment, and complaint forms.

We are committed to ensuring that the children/young people in our care have their voices heard.

We are currently actively pursuing an arrangement with an advocacy service, in order to provide young people with an independent person with whom they can meet on a regular basis.

Rowan House is committed to being inclusive and open, offering children and young people the opportunity to share their views in their own home and to make it a happy place for them to live whilst they are there.

Language and communication needs for people using the service.

Complete Care Plus is aware of the requirements of the Welsh Language Standards Regulations 2017. Making an 'Active Offer' is a behaviour that reflects the core values of the Social Services and Well-being (Wales) Act. 2014 which is to put the individual at the core of the service.

Our service is conducted in English, but we recognise that we would need to communicate in Welsh should the need arise.

Language preference will be recorded within each child/young person's personal plan in order that their needs can be met, and 2-way communication is always possible. Should specialist equipment or training be needed this will be discussed pre-placement in order to ensure the service is able to meet individual communication needs.
